

Resources

Haaretz describes itself as having "a broadly liberal outlook both on domestic issues and on international affairs".^[20] Others describe it alternatively as liberal,^[21] centre-left,^[22] or left-wing.^[23] The newspaper opposes retaining control of the territories and consistently supports peace initiatives. Haaretz is editorially supportive of groups of Israelis who are exploited or discriminated against, such as sex workers, foreign workers, Israeli Arabs, and Ethiopian immigrants.^[7]
www.haaretz.com

B'Tselem (Hebrew: בצלם, IPA: [be'tselem], "in the image of [God]") is a Jerusalem-based independent non-profit organization whose stated goals are to document human rights violations in the Israeli-occupied territories, combat denial of the existence of such violations, and help to create a human rights culture in Israel. B'Tselem also maintains a presence in Washington, D.C., known as B'Tselem USA
www.btselem.org

Christian Peacemaker Team Palestine is a faith-based organization that supports Palestinian-led, nonviolent, grassroots resistance to the Israeli occupation and the unjust structures that uphold it. By collaborating with local Palestinian and Israeli peacemakers and educating people in our home communities, we help create a space for justice and peace. CPT maintains a project in the southern West Bank city of Hebron (Al-Khalil in Arabic), where we stayed.
www.cpt.org/work/palestine

American Friends Service Committee (AFSC) through its Palestinian staff and partners in Gaza, the West Bank and East Jerusalem supports young people and their communities to enable them to marshal local resources that can directly meet pressing humanitarian, social and educational needs. AFSC works in partnership with universities, youth organizations and the Palestinian Ministries of Youth and Education and the United Nations (UNRWA).
<https://www.afsc.org/office/palestine>

Sabeel is an international peace movement initiated by Palestinian Christians who seek a just peace as defined by international law and existing United Nations resolutions. Their affiliate in North America is at www.fosna.org

(over)

Hebron International Resource Network was born in 2010, and has become reality during 2011 with the registration of the organization in Sweden. It is a Scandinavia – Hebron Initiative in the sense that it was established by a Hebronite and some Scandinavians after having identified certain gaps that needed to be filled – within the areas of research, information, exchanges, networking and smaller projects in Hebron and South West Bank. The core of HIRN is the resource center working on the ground in Hebron. We spend some time with HIRN at the various Palestinian schools they support.
hebronresources.wordpress.com

Military Court Watch 's work is guided by the basic principle that children detained by the Israeli military authorities are entitled to all the rights and protections guaranteed under international law. Further, and in accordance with the principle that no State is permitted to discriminate between those over whom it exercises penal jurisdiction, there is no legal justification for treating Palestinian and Israeli children differently under Israel's military and civilian legal systems.

In accordance with these principles, MCW advocates, and where appropriate, litigates, to ensure that all children that come in contact with the military legal system are treated with equality and in accordance with the law.

<http://www.militarycourtwatch.org/>

J Street is the political home for pro-Israel, pro-peace Americans who want Israel to be secure, democratic and the national home of the Jewish people. Working in American politics and the Jewish community, we advocate policies that advance shared US and Israeli interests as well as Jewish and democratic values, leading to a two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

<http://jstreet.org/>

All the above organizations have an active Facebook presence.

 Organizations we met with on our delegation trip in August 2017*